About This Game

Nuts!: The Battle of the Bulge is a Decision Games card game that recreates the famous World War Two battle (16-31 Dec 1944) in which the German Army mounted a surprise attack on the thin U.S. forces deployed in the Ardennes region hoping to breakthrough to the English Channel and split the allied forces.

Overview

In the game you control either the German or the U.S. and British forces. You play using cards that represent the brigades, regiments and battalions which fought in the battle. Each unit is rated for it's strength in infantry, armor, artillery and cohesion. You move and fight with the combat cards to eliminate the opponent's cards and achieve or thwart a strategic breakthrough.

Terrain cards represent the significant geography of the battle, such as Bastogne, Ellsborn Ridge and the Meuse River, which served to hinder or speed the German attack. There are also Event cards that represent all the situations that arose during the battle including events such as German commandos misdirecting traffic, mass surrenders and panics, air strikes and even Patton's prayer for clear weather!

this game is alot like chess and is a big do you want to take a risk or not type game as the usa your trying to hold off germany until reinforces get there as germany your trying to get to the other side of the map before then makes it a very enteresting card game with defrent towns and units as for the others talking about bugs i have played 3.8 hours and not seen a single one thats not to say there are though but i have not noticed any this game also might be hard to pick up and play but once you get the hang of it its really fun. Extremely overpriced for what you get (I'd pay now less than 1$, 2$ and I'm being generous enough). Also note that this game it's intended better for a dumb cellular than for a decent PC. Any decent PC could be used to do much more than this 'piece' of software. It's extremely simple, basic or call it like you want. Got almost all achievements in less than 24 hours, but in this lapse of time:

- I had breakfast
- I Worked a little (not too much)
- I had lunch
- My wife got to walk our two dogs (and me)
- We talked with friends while drinking a coffeee
- I had dinner
- I wrote some posts in Steam
- And had time to do some things more

Simplifying... It is simpler than fry an egg

I forgot to mention... replayability none, null, zero

End of transmission.... I would suggest starting at the "How to Play" section. great strategy game with lots of decision making that can effect the outcome of the game. Between you and me, the negative reviews that will eventually show up , You have to really consider the mechanics of attacking, moving defending.... Hey, if this game was a person I would try to marry it note for those of you with minds ruined by video games, that is a joke, I wouldn't try to marry the game,........... just date it for a while.. Add * The interface is only complex until you have tried it a few times, once you do a couple play throughs you will pick this up with ease.. It's so riddled with bugs that it's literally unplayable.. Too much clicking, not enough strategy. Tried it twice before refund time ran out, and the refunded.. Hi there,

I brought this game on Steam and on Google play (Android).

I like card type war games and thought this could be good.

In its concept this is good idea and actually well thought out.

But the execution is severely flawed.

The game literally crashes in the latter stages leaving you fuming waiting to execute your game changing move that never comes.

It doesn't even matter which side you play on (I had played both thinking it was a glitch).

It is a late stage event that ultimately ruins the game.

Wasted my time and money on it.

Avoid like the plague until someone cares enough to finish it properly.. Bugs, that's it.. i'm on my 3rd game. first 2 were the north scenario. read the rules. interface is effecient. game is fun.

first game played as US. lost mainly because i didn't draw any unit cards. i had a lot of event type cards.

traffic jam, blow bridges etc. but didn't draw many units.

second game also as US. got some units and blew 2 bridges. caused some traffic jams and had an easy time winning.

a lot of strategy, decisions. so far so good. playing US south now.

the price in my opinion is too high.. but when you look past that, it's a fun game.. easy to learn
. Bored the Hell out of me. The Card Game is a Classic for 2 People... This is a very bland conversion to PC and IOS.
